

This morning Firefighter McClary was extubated at MedStar Burn Center. He sat up and started talking and drinking fluids. The doctors said he will make a full recovery and expect to have him up and walking around this afternoon. He was very glad to wake up and see members of his family and the department there. He also is very thankful for the thoughts, prayers, and well wishes he has received. Firefighter Naples has been at the hospital since Firefighter McClary was transported.
