

F/F Cory Johnston was injured during a house fire in Riverdale Heights. He was originally released from the Washington Burn Center, but he has been re-admitted due to minor complications. He is expected to be held until at least Tuesday, November 25, 2008.

We appreciate all the concern and thoughts of our fellow firefighters, the community, and friends. If you would like to send a thought to Cory, you can post it here.